

Feeling Right at Home Assisting Individuals with Addiction

LAS VEGAS, Nevada USA – July 24, 2007 – Nevada’s First Lady, Dawn Gibbons, recently visited an addiction recovery home owned and operated by Solutions Recovery, Inc. After her tour of the Solutions Residential Drug & Alcohol Treatment Center, the First Lady expressed her enthusiasm and support for the unique program offered by Solutions Recovery, Inc. As an advocate for increasing public awareness of the problems surrounding addictions and a proponent for developing more effective forms of treatment for the residents of Nevada, Mrs. Gibbons was pleased with what she observed.

Dave Marlon is president and founder of Solutions Recovery, Inc., which provides the only residence based treatment centers in the state of Nevada. With two locations in operation and more in the planning stages, Mr. Marlon shares the drive behind his vision for successful addiction treatment utilizing a comfortable home environment. “Everyone has a direct connection to addiction,” Marlon explains. “Therefore, we provide a multi-pronged approach geared to treat the whole person - as well as their family when possible - in spiritual, physical, emotional, mental and social aspects of wellbeing.

Solutions Recovery, Inc. believes that those affected by addiction achieve higher success rates when integrated into the culture and programs offered within their local community. Also adding to the recovery success rate is the environment of the home in which the patient resides. Solutions’ homes include such amenities as a swimming pool, billiard room, jacuzzi, fully appointed kitchen and a meditation garden. They also limit the number of residents in each home to a maximum of nine individuals. Until now, patients would have to travel outside the state of Nevada for this type of medical long-term, inpatient program. Furthermore, Solutions Recovery, Inc. is an affordable alternative to similar treatment facilities while still offering a higher level of client care.

“Our treatment providers are caring, experienced and highly trained practitioners in their respective fields,” said Michael R. Adams, ACSW, Vice President of Clinical Operations for Solutions Recovery, Inc. “The multidisciplinary treatment team provides customized, intensive and medically supervised treatment services. We believe that addictions are biologically based and responsive to pharmacological, psychotherapeutic, rehabilitative and recovery interventions. Our patients are supported by experienced professionals, including physicians, psychologists, social workers, licensed drug and alcohol counselors as well as mental health counselors. The program also provides access to acupuncturists, massage therapists, personal chefs, personal fitness trainers and others in order to strengthen the holistic treatment milieu.”
